November 2010

After approaching 3 different Companies with regard to having air conditioning installed in our London premises we found Ambient Services not only the most financially competitive, but also the most helpful when it came to discussing all the different options that best suited us.

When it came to carrying out the installation we were very impressed at Ambient's professional manner, as in they tried to make the least amount of disruption to our working day. They were clean and tidy and works were carried out within the quoted amount of time.

We have and would highly recommend Ambient Services to anyone requiring an air conditioning system installed.
